ELIZE VOSSGÄTTER

(b. 1981 Johannesburg, South Africa)

Elize Vossstätter's work is concerned with our unnatural relationship to the natural environment.

Her primary medium is wax, impregnated with pigment and then worked onto the canvas. The constant tension between the organic and inorganic is palpable. Gouging into the multilayered and multicoloured wax sediment – an exercise in carving – the outcome is a surface structure reminiscent of a relief: a testament to sensual organic forms which evoke the physical laws of the natural world, from which she draws her visual vocabulary.

Recent bodies of work include 'Natural Order' and 'Artificial Selection'. They focus on our failing cultural, political and environmental structures and the flux of finding a new balance in this post-natural world. She completed her Masters in Fine Art at Michaelis (University of Cape Town) in 2023.
